This is in accordance with the Visa Waiver Program (VWP) between the United States and Australia, New Zealand, and a number of other countries. What is the purpose of the US Passport waiver for Australia, New Zealand, and Canada? Foreign citizens who are traveling to the United States are required to obtain a non-immigrant visa for admission into the United States. There are two categories for non-immigrant visas: visa sponsorship and visa waiver. The visa sponsorship category of admission to the United States is used for those wishing to visit the United States for a brief time period to view a show, speak at a conference, meet the President, attend an event, or attend a school in the United States. In addition, the visa waiver category of admission is used for those traveling to the United States for tourism, study, business, or family reunification. The visa waiver program is implemented through the Visa Waiver Program, which allows for certain foreign nationals to enter the United States without presenting an immigrant visa and/or biometric data (fingerprinting). For travel to the United States, foreign nationals who are part of the Visa Waiver Program are required to complete a visa waiver application at a US consulate and/or embassy in their country of residence. These applications are known as the "Passport waiver" forms. These forms are usually obtained from the Consular Section of the closest US consulate or embassy to the foreign national's point of
